The life you build is the architecture you leave behind.

The New Standard for Luxury Architecture

Premiere Issue · October 2026 · amarearchitecture.com

Amaré Architecture was founded on the belief that luxury publishing should feel timeless again.

For years, luxury publications represented prestige through premium print, elegant photography, and timeless craftsmanship. Today's luxury audience values both tradition and digital influence, and at Amaré Architecture, we bring both together. We create high-end print publications for luxury hotels, boutiques, private lounges, and affluent audiences while leveraging digital platforms, strategic partnerships, Meta advertising, and global exposure.

We understand the modern consumer, generational marketing, and the importance of return on investment. When brands partner with Amaré Architecture, they are investing in luxury positioning, global visibility, and long-term brand credibility.

10 Years of Luxury Media, Celebrity Partnerships & Cultural Influence

Founded in 2016 by publisher, creative director, and event producer George Rojas, Amaré Magazine was created with the vision of building a luxury media platform centered around influence, empowerment, strategic relationships, and elevated storytelling.

Over the past decade, Amaré has grown into a recognized name within luxury media, entertainment, hospitality, and celebrity culture through high-profile events, editorial campaigns, and exclusive partnerships. What began as Amaré Magazine has since expanded into Amaré Architecture, led by publisher Andrew Robles, a luxury architecture and lifestyle publication now growing nationally through the Amaré franchise network.
